

Diversity is essential to innovation

Dr. Robert O'Connell, Director of the School of Engineering, Jacobs, has been named as the winner of the 2020 Diversity Champion award. The award is presented annually to the individual who has made the most significant contribution to the diversity and inclusion of the University of Cambridge. Dr. O'Connell has been recognized for his leadership in promoting diversity and inclusion within the School of Engineering, Jacobs, and for his work with the LGBTQ+ community.

Dr. O'Connell has been instrumental in the development of the School's Diversity and Inclusion Strategy, which aims to create a more inclusive and equitable environment for all. He has also been a key player in the establishment of the LGBTQ+ Network at the University of Cambridge, which provides a safe space for LGBTQ+ staff and students to connect and support each other.

Diversity & Inclusion: R a c e & E t h n i c i t y

The School of Engineering, Jacobs, is committed to creating a diverse and inclusive environment for all. We recognize that diversity and inclusion are essential for innovation and success. We are currently reviewing our policies and procedures to ensure they are fair and equitable for all. We are also working to increase the representation of Black, Asian, and Minority Ethnic (BAME) staff and students within the School.
